a day at school is never the same

Girls come dashing into the library with tales of last night's dates. Fellows are trying to get their physics completed before class. "How are you going to the baseball or basketball game tonight?" Time to have graduation pictures taken. "Have you a date for the Christmas Prom?" Then there is the Christmas exchange. Should I say more? . . . Vacation, exams, play tryouts, and big assignments when there isn't anything else to keep us busy! Chorus rehearsal for the Spring Concert, dates for Junior-Senior Banquet, plans for house parties, practice marching for Baccalaureate and finally Commencement exercises! So, this is school! Oh, lead me to it.

G. WENDELL DYGERT

We, the Senior Class of 1947, wish to dedicate our annual to Mr. Dygert, our former class sponsor, who so successfully guided us through our first three years in high school. At this time we want to express our gratitude and tell you, Mr. Dygert we think you're grand.

in appreciation

In appreciation of his helpfulness and the interest he has taken in us, we the Senior Class of 1947, wish to thank Mr. Rose for taking over our sponsorship during our last year of high school.

Miss Shultz has gone about her duties on the annual unnoticed year after year. We decided to take this opportunity to thank her for all of her swell ideas and unmeasurable work. Without her co-operation and help we realize it would be impossible to tackle a year-book.

"Oh, give me something to remember you by!" Our school has done just that. We have fond friendships, few sorrows and many happy moments. Our school has contributed to help us and our community. May we go out and practice what we have learned.

teachers*

For the past four years we have been ably assisted by our faculty, the life center of school. Through the administration we have enjoyed the benefits of a very successful curriculum.

Military men have found that the best marksmen come from among boys who have been reared in the open country. One of the factors accounting for this is that these boys are accustomed to viewing objects at considerable distances.

It is equally true that those young people who most consistently register "bull's eyes" in life are those who keep an eye on the distant future; who are concerned not only with what they are doing tonight, tomorrow, and next week, but also with what they hope to be doing in five years, ten years, twenty-five years hence.

I listened to a man give a very short impromptu speech this evening. He had missed several meetings of his Club — he'd been in a hospital. But he was cheerful and grateful because he'd been remembered while away. He concluded by saying — "And I want to attend regularly because I wish to be of service to others." It impressed me.

I talked with a boy today, in a friendly sort of way. He had a problem. The solution? "Do a little more for others than you're expected to do. It'll work wonders."

This idea of service for others must more and more permeate our daily living if life is to have purpose and meaning in this materialistic age.

I sincerely believe this ideal is a big motivating factor in the lives of the people who make up Angola High School. It is evidenced repeatedly in "a day at school."

board of education

We, the senior class, wish to extend our sincere thanks to the members of the Board of Education for the help they have given in forming the general school policies. We appreciate the need for an efficient school organization.

CORNEAL R. BRATTON

Mr. Bratton is the president of the Angola Board of Education. He has served faithfully for the past six years. As the executive head, he presides over all monthly meetings. When he is not at work on the board, Mr. Bratton may be found as manager of Golden's Garage.

HAROLD STEVENS

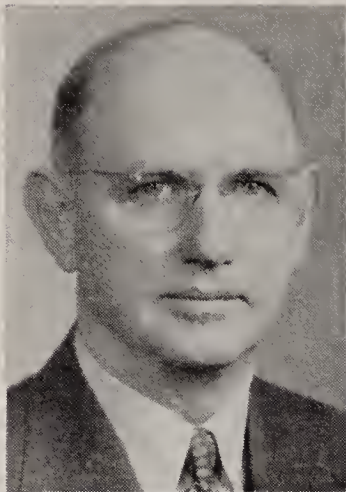

Mr. Stevens is the newest board member. This is his first year and he is secretary of the organization. He keeps all the records of the meetings and handles all the correspondence. "Steve" is proprietor of the Lakeland Radio Shop.

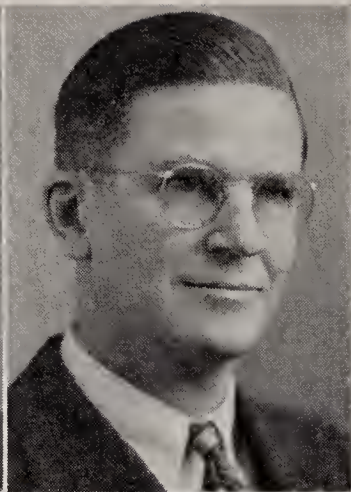

CARLTON CHASE

Mr. Chase, the cashier of the First National Bank, is the treasurer of the board. He takes care of the financial matters encountered by the school board. This is Mr. Chase's third year of service.

There are many people that are necessary for the smooth running of the public schools. The most important group is the faculty. The grade teachers help the children learn the elements of arithmetic, English and science. The high school teachers prepare the students for their future lives in college, in business, and in the home.

The custodians keep our school building clean. They help to surround us with the right atmosphere for study. Ralph Freed joined the staff last March.

We could not get along without the cooks. They prepare well balanced meals for the students who are not able to go home for their lunches.

Nor do we forget the friendly Police Officer Purdon in front of the building.

We wish to pay tribute here to the memory of Theodore Hopkins, police chief, who endeared himself to the pupils of the Angola schools while he for two years guarded their safety in crossing Wayne Street in front of the building. As his efforts were untiring, so our fond memory of him will be everlasting.

in class

Here we are in class — we'll say just any class. Sometimes we feel we are well prepared for the period with lessons written and questions answered. Then other days we're not quite ready; but perhaps we shouldn't talk about that. It takes every class period, with our mistakes and our accomplishments, to make us what we are.

the summit is reached

This is the story of one of the most famous groups of explorers that ever set out to climb the mount of education in the Angola Schools.

CHAPTER I

It was a tired but happy group which assembled at the base of High School Mount. A census of the population of the Eighth Grade community showed that 54 boys and girls had successfully explored Grade School Valley and were ready to attempt to scale Mount High School.

CHAPTER II

At the first landing, called Freshman Inn, on the long ascent of Mount High School there were 62 boys and girls in the party. It was here that they picked up Mr. Dygert as an adviser to the group. His aid proved valuable and under his guidance the group made steady progress toward the top. The ascent was carried on in a scientific and educational manner. The group was given periodical tests to determine their ability to continue the climb. It was here the individuals found they had to stand on their own two feet.

CHAPTER III

When our group arrived at the overnight place called Sophomore Lodge, there were 60 members in the party. The air became too thin for some of the group and they dropped out along the way, but the party was joined by members from other expeditions. It was here that our group lost Catherine Combs, Matthew Crooks, Fred Nelson, Ralph Northup, Margaret Owens, Roger Parsell, Carlton Rinehart, Kathryn Randol and gained Peggy Fletter, Joan Kundard, Douglas Cox, Dean Luke, DeWayne Richmond, Laurel Richmond, Don Sell and Carolyn Bush.

CHAPTER IV

When the group came to rest on a platform known as Junior Paradise, they could see the summit ahead. It was during this resting period they gave their Junior Play, held their Junior-Senior Banquet, and attended the May Dance. When the group was ready to journey on, they left behind Dick Barnes, Leonard Bloomfield, Joyce Cox, Edyth Gilbert, Mary Preston, Donnalee Stage, and Dean Luke. They took on additional members who were Loren Heckler, Red Loomis, Dale McClellan, Leonard Mitzman, and JoAnn Tribby.

CHAPTER V

The climbers were on the last lap of their four year climb now. They took with them new members Gearld Pearson, Margaret Owens, Bette Griffin, Kathryn Doudt, and Mr. Rose as adviser, and dropped a few of the veterans by the wayside. They were our sponsor, Mr. Dygert, Bud Jones, Loren Heckler, Patricia Lampman, Mary Lou Wolfe, Carolyn Bush, and Ronald Wells. The climb became more steep now and the way, narrow. The rocks became more treacherous. Numerous times the group stopped and took mental survey of their position before they reached the summit. As a reward for the accomplishments of the brave group who had spent twelve years in educational exploration, the Angola High School held a public program and each member of the exploration received a high school diploma. As the group basked in the glory of their accomplishments they looked toward the future and new summits to attain.

—BILLY WARREN, Jr.

Would you like to know what is in the future for the Class of '47? Well, wonder no longer for having consulted the stars, moon, and a few comets for good measure, we feel that we have mastered astrology and can give you a first class report on the future.

Let's take a look into the year 1957! Of course, the first place that takes our attention is Angola, which is really booming since Don Sell started an automobile factory nearby. He is aided by his private secretary, Angela Foutz. "Sell's Mighty Midgets" have outsold every other car on the market. Shirlee Allen is also interested in cars; she is making a fortune buying and selling antique models. Another addition to the city is a beauty salon, The El Pompador, owned by Lois Leman and Rose Marie Ashley. Patsy Cremean, Crystal Parrish, and Kate Doudt are also living in Angola. Patsy decorates windows at the Golden Garage; Crystal teaches bookkeeping in high school in place of "Pop"; and Kate is the future house mother of Alpha Lambda Tau Fraternity. At Tri-State we find Lee Sutton coaching basketball and football. Corky Johnson is busy designing a new skyscraper, even larger than the Hotel Hendry. It will be used for a radio station. A correspondence school has sprung up in Angola also. It is being conducted by Jim Neukam and DeWayne Richmond, and their main course is "How to Make Atomic Bombs in Ten Easy Lessons."

Many things will be happening in the areas surrounding Angola. In Flint, Joan Kundard and Barbara Sanders are starting an exclusive school for girls. Patty Harman has set up a series of ice cream stands from Angola to Coldwater. In Coldwater Margaret Owens and Lorna Waite are conducting a date bureau for the convenience of Angola girls who wish to spend their spare time in that city. Burton Whitlock is competing for the championship of the 100-meter dash in the Olympic Games which will be held in Pleasant Lake this year. Another sports event of the year will occur when the Zollner Pistons of whom Ed Jackson is the captain, will play the Angola Hornets.

Looking in on our nation's capital we find quite a few of the members of our class. We find Congressman Laurel Richmond being criticized for monopolizing the debates in the Senate. Dale McClellan is Secretary of the Navy under the new Republican president, Andy Emerson. Clifton Nilson, who is Secretary of the Treasury, has announced that he has secured the advice of Carolyn Bender, mathematics expert, on how to lower the national debt.

Turning our attention to New York we find Mac Arnold playing the part of the wolf in the Broadway production, "Little Red Riding Hood." Willa Mae Sutton is the hair dresser of the famous dramatic star, Peg Fletter, who is also starred on Broadway. In one of the large New York radio stations we find Betty Feagler as a featured "Boogie Woogie" pianist on Betty Miller's radio program. Betty Miller is the successor to Joan Davis. Bob Williamson is putting his talents to use as an auctioneer for the American Tobacco Company on "Your Hit Parade." In the newspaper world we find Red Loomis editor of the sports section of The New York Times. Jean Miller and Harriet Rose are also in New York. They are preparing a sequel to their best seller, Advice On Married Life. Bill Lemley practices medicine on swanky Fifth Avenue. He says his beautiful lady patients declare him the greatest medico that ever held their hands—to take their pulses!

In Chicago Bill Warren and Jerry Pearson are running a Super Grocery and Meat Market. All their products are grown especially for them at a huge farm in California owned by Dick Shank. The products are shipped to Chicago by an airplane piloted by Dick Romero who is employed by the American Transport Co. Bob Walter is also in Chicago. He is the manager of the shoe department of Sears, Roebuck and Co.

In Hollywood Barbara Bratton is playing in the movies opposite Roy Rogers. Their latest picture is "The Wolves of '57." Ben Weldon is competing with Harry James on the trumpet. A movie short is being made by Jean Boyer and Bette Griffin demonstrating the powers of mental telepathy. Doris Kyle and Donna Stevens are great artists working for Walt Disney.

Some of the members of our class are not settled in any one place. Leonard Mitzman is gaining fame as a Russian dancer. He has appeared in Paris, Moscow, London, and other capitals of the world. Chuck Sheets and Leonard Ott are singing salesmen going from house to house selling Ott and Sheets' Perky Pink Pills. Junior Ewers is preparing to make a trip around the world on a motorcycle run by jet-propulsion. LaVerne Easterday is taking a trip to Alaska in a new Pontiac and Bonnie Kessler, captain of the world's greatest women's basketball team, is traveling through the United States with the other members on an exhibition tour.

Well, that's what the stars say, and if it doesn't happen, blame them, not us.

last will

We, the Class of '47 of Angola High School, situated in the city of Angola, in the county of Steuben, in the state of Indiana, being in an unusually sound state of mind and memory, do make, publish and declare this our last will and testament, leaving our cherished possessions, which we have accumulated during our four years of high school, to the underclassmen and faculty.

To the school, we hereby will and bequeath all of our worldly belongings consisting of pencils, erasers, tacks, matches, acid-resisting physics books, and many other things too numerous to mention to be sold at public auction, the proceeds to be used to build a new gymnasium.

To Mr. Estrich, our superintendent, we hereby will and bequeath all the good thoughts that assembly speakers have attempted to pass on to us. We, full of ambitions, have no room in our already too full heads for these thoughts.

To Mr. Elliott, our principal, we hereby will and bequeath all of the good disciplinary measures that the faculty has tried to give to us. As everyone knows, because of our quiet and reserved manner, we no longer need these measures.

In addition to these bequests we wish to dispose of some of our more personal items as follows:

I, Shirlee Allen, do hereby will and bequeath all my nicknames to Lois Spangle.

I, Mac Arnold, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to be high scorer in every basketball game to "Red" Radcliffe.

I, Rose Marie Ashley, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to get straight "A's" in bookkeeping to my sister, Phyllis.

I, Carolyn Bender, do hereby will and bequeath my civics class and Mr. Handy, to Shirley Brokaw.

I, Greta Bodie, do hereby will and bequeath my short name to Barbara Gwiazdowski.

I, Jean Boyer, do hereby will and bequeath my "pug nose" to Mary Jane Henderson.

I, Barbara Bratton, do hereby will and bequeath my interest in horses to Paula Randolph.

I, Patsy Cremean, do hereby will and bequeath my petite figure and size 4½ shoe to Molly Lee Hosack.

I, Katherine Doudt, do hereby will and bequeath my serene composure in physical education class to Waddy Myers.

We, LaVerne Easterday and Willa Sutton, do hereby will and bequeath our favorite parking places on Fox Lake road to Tillie VanWagner.

I, Andrew Emerson, do hereby will and bequeath one well-worn path to Mr. Elliott's office to Bob Sewell.

I, Breezy Ewers, do hereby will and bequeath my tendency to be stopped by state cops to Dewey Nodine.

I, Betty Feagler, do hereby will and bequeath my music to Gloria LeVine.

I, Peggy Fletter, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to stay away from basketball players during my senior year to Phyllis Smurr.

I, Angela Foutz, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to be the best dressed senior girl to Shirley Brokaw.

I, Bette Griffin, do hereby will and bequeath my dislike of school to anyone interested.

I, Patty Harman, do hereby will and bequeath my freckles to Ileen Nelson.

I, Ed Jackson, do hereby will and bequeath my art ability to the Harris boys.

I, Corky Johnson, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to get straight "A's" in math and mechanical drawing to my brother, Cy.

I, Bonnie Kessler, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to handle a small car (Pontiac coupe) and stay out of trouble with it, to Elinor Loomis (Cadillac special.)

I, Joan Kundard, do hereby will and bequeath my horn rimmed glasses to John Elliott and my nickname "Pumpkin" to Mort Meek, who was the originator of it.

I, Doris Kyle, do hereby will and bequeath my third period gym class to Jim Willis.

I, Lois Leman, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to argue with Pop Certain to Donna Phinney.

and testament

I, Bill Lemley, do hereby will and bequeath my old beaten-up tired-out, saddle shoes to any underclassman that has a real appreciation of the finer things of life.

I, Red Loomis, do hereby will and bequeath my very thin stature to Shirley Brokaw.

I, Dale McClellan, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to go with older blondes in miniature model cars to "Hie" Dowell.

I, Betty Miller, do hereby will and bequeath my well-worn shorthand books to Annette Aranguren.

I, Jean Miller, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to drive a Ford with no brakes, no windshield wiper, no windows, no muffler, no heater, no doors that stay shut, and no lights to Brice Clark.

I, James Neukam, do hereby will and bequeath my ability in Ag. class to Keith Newnam.

I, DeWayne Richmond, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to skip school any time to go to Fort Wayne to Don Nelson.

I, Clifton Nilson, do hereby will and bequeath my heart to Mary Alice Myers.

I, Leonard Ott, do hereby will and bequeath my beard to Owen Amstutz.

I, Margaret Owens, do hereby will and bequeath the family car for further out-of-town use to my sister, Elinor.

I, Crystal Parrish, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to keep from going steady to "Dee" Seeman.

I, Jerry Pearson, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to stay clear of the office to Jim Shank.

I, Laurel Richmond, do hereby will and bequeath my crutches to Joe Douglass.

I, Dick Romero, do hereby will and bequeath my tremendous physique to Denny Druckamiller.

I, Harriet Rose Maynard, do hereby will and bequeath my marriage certificate to any member of the Junior class, and also my ability to keep a secret to Waddy Myers.

I, Barbara Sanders, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to think of something fantastically different for Journalism to Barbara Gwiazdowski.

I, Don Sell, do hereby will and bequeath my manly build to Charles Swager.

I, Marilyn Servis, do hereby will and bequeath my height and slenderness to Janice Jones.

I, Dick Shank, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to get sent to the office three times a week to Bill Crain.

I, Chuck Sheets, do hereby will and bequeath my pick-up appeal, accessories and approaches included, to Junior Erbe and Jim Willis.

I, Donna Stevens, do hereby will and bequeath my draft card, if and when I get one, to Mary Ellen Redding to use to best advantage.

I, Lee Sutton, do hereby will and bequeath my baseball spikes to Susie Lemley.

I, Lorna Waite, do hereby will and bequeath my typewriter and eraser to Erl Raney.

I, Bob Walter, do hereby will and bequeath the right to go out with Michigan girls to Harold Dowell.

I, Bill Warren, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to go steady with one girl to Erl Raney.

I, Ben Weldon, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to play a trumpet to Owen Amstutz.

I, Burton Whitlock, do hereby will and bequeath my worn out Chevrolet to John Bond.

I, Bob Williamson, do hereby will and bequeath my curly hair, as much as there is of it, to Bud Bodie.

I, Leonard Mitzman, do hereby will and bequeath my nickname of "Moe" to my brother, Robert.

In testimony whereof, we hereunto set our hand and seal and declare this to be our Last Will and Testament, this twenty-ninth day of May, in the year of our Lord one thousand, nine hundred and forty-seven.

Signed: THE SENIOR CLASS

OUR FUTURE

Youth has always looked forward to the future. Children of four and five are always eager to enter elementary school. Tomorrow holds for them a brilliant future. Their thoughts, though they cover a comparatively short period of time, are very important. It is then that they first form a basis of personality and may I say—their future?

Elementary school is a training period. Through classes in the grades a student learns to study, to be attentive and most important of all—to plan. What the student learns here adds to his personality. His attitude toward school, gained in the grades, will mainly determine his scholastic ability and record in high school.

Our high school training will undoubtedly play a great part in our future. The greatest single factor which determines one's personality is perhaps his association with others. He learns from this association in high school. By the time a student graduates he has positively formed the basis of his future. From high school we have learned many things. The ability to work with others comes from the athletic program. The ability to work alone and rely upon one's self comes from the various courses studied. These two abilities are very important. Students have learned them in varied degree according to their aptitudes. This, in turn, is a determining factor in our future.

There are many factors which should be considered. The training received at home is vitally important. This is influenced almost entirely by the parents. I do not believe that this can be overstressed. The religious aspect is another very important, and too often overlooked, part of our education.

These three parts of our preparation form a triangle, personality, formal education, and home training combined with religious training. Like a triangle, the whole is dependent upon the completion of all its parts.

Today we are skeptical; yesterday we were eager. What does tomorrow hold for us? For many it holds success, happiness, prominence, and all of the good things of life. As we approach our graduation we realize how large and formidable the world really is. It is, today, in a very unstable condition. It has not yet recovered from the ravages of war, starvation, and inflation. Even after many years these memories will live on.

All of these thoughts lead us to wonder just what the future holds for us. Perhaps life will be a bed of roses; more than likely, however, the roses will also bear thorns. We must take these troubles in our stride.

When our parents were graduated from high school, the world was in a worse state than it is today. They were undoubtedly full of perplexity and wonder. From them we gain encouragement. We feel that the condition of the world has never been so bad that it could not have become worse, nor has it ever been so good that it could not have improved. Nevertheless, the world has always held a future for youth.

Shall we live in pomposity or in necessity? That is entirely up to the student. May we remember Henley's famous lines:

"I am the master of my fate;
I am the captain of my soul."

I am convinced that our future shall be what we make it.

—DALE McCLELLAN

EDUCATION, A NECESSITY FOR DEMOCRACY

We, the senior class of the year nineteen hundred forty-seven, are about to step out into a new world. We have spent the previous twelve years of our lives in school, gaining an education. It is said that an education is needed by our future citizens to prepare them for the way of life in a democracy. One may ask, "Just what do you mean by the word, education?"

The dictionary gives the definition: Education is the knowledge and abilities gained through the training of the moral and intellectual faculties. This definition has a broader meaning, however, and it may be expanded to meet the needs of our present day society. This does not mean that schooling alone will impart knowledge; it means that one must have constant practice in applying what he has been taught.

The war that has been fought and won in the last few years is finished as far as the actual hostilities are concerned. But this is only the first part of the great task that faces us today and there are many lessons yet to be learned. We must now try to secure an everlasting peace for the whole world. This may sound like a note of optimism, but peace can be obtained on one condition. That is, if the people of the world are educated sufficiently to understand their own needs.

An educated man must have an open mind; he must be willing to listen to reason; and he must act with confidence in himself. This doesn't mean he is gullible and accepts the first argument that sounds as if it could possibly work, but he collects all the facts, weighs them with the utmost care; then, and only then, he comes forth with an intelligent decision that will benefit all concerned.

In a democracy there is no room for prejudice. Prejudice is an emotion, not the result of right education. It causes blindness to the facts, and the results of such blindness may bring hardships to untold numbers of innocent people. Racial prejudice and political prejudice are two of the greatest enemies of democracy. They can not be overlooked, for they are not matters that will right themselves if they are left alone. We must make studies and then effect compromises which, if carefully planned and carried out, will bring satisfactory results to all.

The right to vote is a weapon of democracy, although it is often abused by ignorance. People can be persuaded to change their vote if the promise or reward is big enough to justify the means. If people will do their own thinking, they are using their education to the best advantage. But if they listen to only one side of the story and guide their acts by emotions, they are throwing away education and its advantages.

Some of us are planning to go on to college after graduating, in order to gain technical knowledge for our future jobs. This additional training that we will receive will better equip us to take our place in society and be useful to our associates.

Education does not stop when the schooling stops; it continues through life. If a person will keep his mind clear and be alert to his surroundings, he will learn something new every day. Education is part of the process of growing up and one's mind can be constantly improved if the individual himself really has the will to learn.

Franklin D. Roosevelt, Henry Ford, Thomas Edison, and Albert Einstein are all examples of well educated men. They were all specialists in different fields, but each, in his own way, gave something to the world. We can't all be as great as these men, but by educating ourselves to the best of our ability, we can be worthy of our great democracy.

team*

Basketball games build morale; on the hardwood we learn what good sportsmanship really is; we enjoy the thrill of seeing our team in action. It would be impossible for us to have a day at school without our team.

net hornets

PHIL HULL—Junior—Phil was the rebounder on the team; though not very tall, he made a competent center because of his aggressiveness and fight. He was one of the leading scorers on the team and should be hard to stop next year.

DEAN SUTTON—Junior—"Deanie" was the tallest member of the Hornet squad and proved mighty handy at the forward position helping Phil rebound. Deanie had a great one hand shot that was hard to stop, which netted him the honor of second highest scorer on the team.

BRICE CLARK—Junior—Brice led the Hornets in scoring this year. Brice, though small, was very fast and had a good push shot. Brice will long be remembered for his 23-point scoring splurge against Concordia.

MAC ARNOLD—Senior—Mac was the steadying influence on the Hornet attack. He was captain most of the games and handled the team in a stern but commendable way. He was always in the thick of the fray and has many good games to his credit.

ED JACKSON—Senior—Ed was another hard driving guard who was plenty fast and a value to any team. Ed had many good games this year. Ed was a good defense man and a scrapper all the way. He will be hard to replace.

ROD ROMERO—Senior—Rod was another big boy on the Hornet squad. Rod was usually sent into the game when Phil wasn't going well, and he gave several good relief roles. He was big and hard to keep off the backboards; he would be an asset to any team.

WOODIE DYGERT — Junior — Woodie is probably the most improved player on the Hornet squad. He advanced from a sub on the "B" team during his Sophomore year to a prominent role on the Varsity. Woodie isn't as much the offensive type of player as he is the feeding and rebounding type.

LEE SUTTON—Senior—Lee has the most dangerous long shot on the team and also was a great free throw artist. He had his best game against Fremont, scoring eleven points in the Hornet 59-29 win.

JOE DOUGLASS—Sophomore—Joe started the season on the "B" team, but was soon promoted to the Varsity. Joe played some good ball until he was injured in an automobile accident which put him out for the duration of the season. As he is only a Sophomore much will be expected of him in future years.

JOHN ELLIOTT — Junior — Johnnie, though very small, is fast, and possesses a good basket eye. We look forward to seeing him play next year.

BILL LEMLEY—Senior—Bill was a dependable, consistent reserve who was ready for action any time and whose cooperative spirit will be greatly missed.

JUNIOR EWERS—Senior—"Breezie" was another tall boy who helped out a great deal. He played forward. He also was injured in an automobile accident and was forced to quit in mid-season.

the season in review

The season's record of seven wins and twelve losses included wins over LaGrange, Fremont, Garrett, Howe Military, Avilla, and Salem Center and losses to such powers as Auburn, Kendallville, Fort Wayne Concordia, Waterloo, Coldwater, and Garrett. And yet with their poor record the Hornets outscored their opponents over the season.

The Hornets compiled a total of 745 points to their opponents total of 697.

The first four games were at home with some of the toughest competition the Hornets had to face all season. Kendallville, who won their sectional and had a season record of 18 and 3, was first and they handed the local five a 32-25 defeat. Waterloo eked out a close 33-32 decision in the second encounter. Concordia handed the Hornets their third straight loss but only after a free-scoring battle, 65-52. Auburn was the last of the first four home battles and the Red Devils finally won out 47-43 after having the Hornets down 18-6 shortly after the beginning of the second quarter.

The Hornets then hit the road to defeat LaGrange 65-29. Garrett came here to absorb a 34-32 licking. Back on the road the Hornets lost to Butler 37-34 but won at Fremont 59-29 in their best display of offense and defense. Still on the road the Hornets placed Howe Military on their list of victims, 33-30 but lost to Garrett 41-40.

Fremont came here and was beaten 43-30. The Hornets traveled to Waterloo and were beaten a second time 41-32 at the hands of the Wildcats. Then came the big upset of the season as Salem Center caught the Hornets on their heels and beat them 30-21. Avilla was next to be defeated 43-39 here. The Hornets then traveled to Coldwater to lose 49-42.

Butler and Berne closed out the regular season schedule in the local gymnasium and both came out victorious. Butler won 40-35 and Berne 35-33.

Coach Emery Druckamiller closed a highly successful coaching career during the 1946-7 season. "Druck" was promoted to the athletic directorship after twenty-one years as a mentor. This includes five years at Tri-State College, two years at Syracuse, and fourteen here at A. H. S.

His overall record for high school was 260 victories against 120 defeats for a .684 percentage. This includes thirteen county championships, three sectional wins and nine times in the finals of the sectional.

Top row: Eugene Easterday, Joe Beck, Fred Romero, Mort Meek, Burdett Jackson, Bill Radcliffe, Herbert Sanders.

Members of the squad will not forget the grand work of our cheerleaders, Chuck Sheets and Mary Ellen Redding. They could be depended on for a real boost when the chips were down. Chuck was in his second year as a cheerleader; Mary Ellen was enjoying her first in the honored position.

bee squad

The second squad followed up their 17-1 record of last year with a 15-2 season's mark for this year. They also gained a new name in a contest sponsored by the Hornet. The name selected was the Bees. Three of the squad's members, John Elliott, Chuck Dygert and Jim Murray, were promoted to first team duty late in the season.

diamond hornets

The Hornets easily defeated Scott Center in the diamond opener 24-3. Next the Hornets journeyed to Edon, Ohio. Edon, one of the better high school teams in Ohio, dropped the Hornets 9-3. The Hornets next journeyed to Ashley, where they easily meted out a 14-0 shutout to Coach Frederick's boys.

The Hornets coasting on a 2 won 1 lost record, again met Edon, this time on their own diamond. Edon threw their star pitcher, Held, at the Hornets in anticipation of a tough battle. Held, who had allowed only one run and one hit in his previous four games, allowed the Hornets 4 hits, one a home run by Dean Sutton. The game went into one extra inning before Edon put together a double, and a single for the winning tally and a 2-1 victory.

The Hornets got back in the win column with a 5-4 victory over Waterloo. Waterloo had a previous record of 7 victories and 1 defeat.

On behalf of the editorial staff, I wish to express my sincerest feeling of gratitude to all the members of the Key Staff who worked through thick and thin, surmounting obstacles of large proportions, to make this book a success from a financial standpoint and from a standpoint of content.

The school paper was started in 1918 and given the name "The Key," the same as the yearbook. Its name was changed again in 1934 to "The Spectator," and in 1935 it was called "The Hornet."

The front and back covers of The Hornet this year were printed by the Steuben Printing Company. They had pictures of some of the school organizations, as the music groups, the first and reserve teams, cheer leaders, and action pictures of the games. The first issue had a picture of the school building on the front cover. The inside pages of the paper were mimeographed here at school.

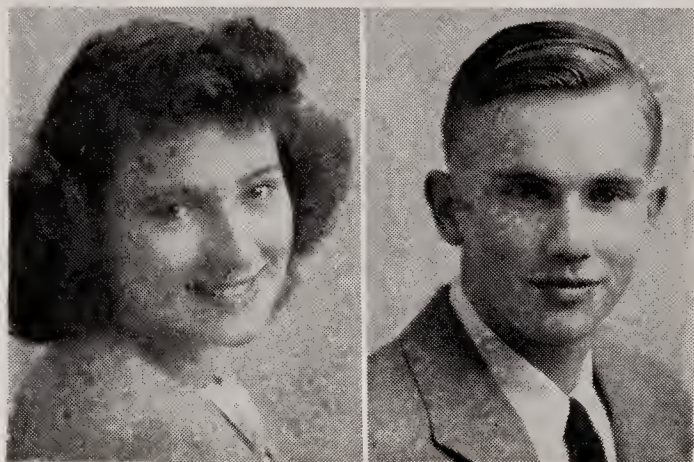

One of the outstanding issues of the year was the Christmas issue. The fronts of the paper were done by the art classes, under the direction of D. C. Brown. The cover picture showed the shepherds pointing to the star. The back cover pictured the activities of the art department.

The course in journalism gives the students experience in writing. As well as publishing The Hornet, they wrote articles for the "School Notes" in The Steuben Republican.

This year's journalism class consisted of twelve members, seven seniors, three juniors, and two sophomores.

The work in the journalism department is under the supervision of Miss Shultz.

AMERICAN LEGION AWARDS

For the past fifteen years the American Legion citizenship award has been presented to one boy and one girl of the senior class. The Angola Post No. 31 makes this award.

The criteria for judging the winners are honor, courage, leadership, and service to the school. The selections are made by faculty votes.

The winners in the class of '47 were Clifton Nilson and Joan Kundard.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

To be chosen for the national Honor Society is to a Senior one of the greatest honors to be given in Angola High School.

The members of the Society are from the upper third of the class and are chosen on the basis of scholarship, service, citizenship, and character. Fifteen per cent of the class is eligible. The honor this year was given to the following members: Patty Harman, Joan Kundard, Bill Lemley, Red Loomis, Dale McClellan, Barbara Sanders, Donna Stevens and Don Sell.

Each member, every year, contributes one dollar to the scholarship fund for the first five years of his membership. This fund was established in 1938 for the purpose of lending to a high school graduate wishing to attend college.

The local chapter of the National Honor Society was established in Angola High School in 1935 and now consists of 189 members.

At the first meeting of the active National Honor Society an election of officers was held. The officers elected were: President, Bill Lemley; vice president, Barbara Sanders; secretary, Red Loomis; treasurer, Principal Elliott.

Standing: Red Loomis, Don Sell, Bill Lemley, Dale McClellan.

The student council of Angola High School has had another prosperous year. They have provided opportunities for student self-direction, encouraged closer co-operation between the students and the faculty, and maintained high standards of citizenship in our high school.

The council was organized in 1932 and this year marked our fifteenth year of progress. Each member was given responsible positions on various committees throughout the year. The council carried out the following activities: Election of cheer leaders; selling of basketball schedule pencils; supervision of drawing of sectional tourney tickets; providing auditorium programs for the second semester; arranging for the May dance; and purchasing pins for each of its members.

The members were: Seniors—Bob Williamson, Patsy Cremean, Ed Jackson, Jean Miller, Rose Marie Ashley; Juniors—Phil Hull, Sheila Harman, Elinor Owens, Woodie Dygert; Sophomores—Mary Ellen Redding, Eugene Meek, Norma Goodall, Bob Heingartner; Freshmen—Denie Cotner, Nancy Sutton, Denny Druckamiller, Eugene Easterday; Junior High—Veryl Carpenter, Nancy Clarke, Billie London, Paula Randolph. Jean Miller, senior council member was graduated at mid-term and Rose Marie Ashley was chosen to take her place.

The officers for the year were: President, Bob Williamson; vice president, Phil Hull; secretary, Sheila Harman; reporter, Ed Jackson.

Mr. Brown was the sponsor the first semester and Mr. Gondring, the second semester.

Top row: Eugene Easterday, Elinor Owens, Jean Miller, Mary Ellen Redding, Norma Goodall, Veryl Carpenter.

Second row: Mr. Brown, Bob Heingartner, Bob Williamson, Chuck Dygert, Eugene Meek, Phil Hull, Ed Jackson, Denny Druckamiller, William London.

Alpha Delta Chi, the Angola High School dramatics club, was organized in 1945. Its membership is now open to anyone in high school who has an interest in the stage or entertainment field.

The club has a membership of sixty-seven. Its colors are black and white; its motto, "All the World's a Stage;" and its flower, the white rose.

The first meeting of the year was in the form of an initiation banquet in the high school lunch room. Our president, Joan Kundard, acted as toast mistress. This was followed by a Truth or Consequences program in the auditorium with Ed Jackson as master of ceremonies.

Dramatics Club productions this year have been the following one act plays: Not Quite Such A Goose; The Ghosts Walk; Fireman Save My Child; Sparklin'; and Yes Means No.

The club also sponsored an Amateur Hour program, bringing to light talent from every year in school.

The first semester officers were: President, Joan Kundard; vice president, Chuck Sheets; secretary, Ellie Owens; treasurer, Mac Arnold.

The second semester officers were: President, Clifton Nilson; vice president, George Close; secretary, Peggy Fletter; treasurer, Greta Bodie.

Mrs. Jane Cappellino was the club sponsor.

future farmers of america

The Future Farmers of America is an organization of farm boys who are interested in agriculture. It was organized in Angola in 1931 under the supervision of Mr. Elliott.

Every boy who is in the vocational agriculture department is eligible to join the F.F.A.

The organization held its combined alumni-father and son banquet at Potawatomi Inn on December 3. Ninety-six members and guests attended. Former Senator Raymond E. Willis gave the main address. He compared ways of farming in foreign countries to our more highly developed methods. Bill Crain gave the welcome address and Marvin Green, a former president of F.F.A., gave the response.

In December the Angola Chapter sold Christmas trees, continuing a project started in 1945.

The chapter organized a basketball team, which won a series of two out of three games from the Hi-Y. The F. F. A. team defeated the Coldwater F. F. A. on February 11.

The Angola chapter's dairy judging team, Dick Shank, Bill Crain, John Elliott, and Bill Carr, placed seventh in the district contest last year and the team members attended the state judging contest at Purdue in July. This team won first place in the Steuben County dairy judging contest held April 19, and represented the county in the District Contest, May 1.

Our chapter sent two delegates, Dick Shank and Bob Walter, to the state convention at Purdue University in April. Dick Shank received the Hoosier Farmer degree.

The chapter has twenty-two active members and a host of alumni.

The officers for the present year were: President, Bill Crain; vice president, Bill Carr; secretary, Dick Shank; treasurer, Chuck Sheets, and reporter, Jim Neukam. Mr. Elliott is the adviser.

"Stage Door," a comedy in three acts by Edna Ferber and George Kauffman, was presented by the senior class on Thursday and Friday evenings, March 27 and 28. The action takes place in the Foot Lights Club, somewhere in the West Fifties in New York City, and the story deals with the girls who live there and their friends.

The ambition of every girl there is to become an actress, and many are the applications at all the casting offices, which the girls visit daily. Sometimes the girls are given minor parts and the shows fold up within a week, or parts as understudies, with the leading actresses never becoming ill.

Pat Devine gets a job as a night club entertainer. Terry Randall gives recipes on a radio program and later resorts to selling blouses at Macey's. The life of Kaye Hamilton ends in tragedy because of no work and accumulated debts. Jean Maitland is offered a part in a moving picture and goes to Hollywood. She returns a year later to appear on Broadway and as she is followed by reporters and cameramen, she is lionized by the girls at the Club.

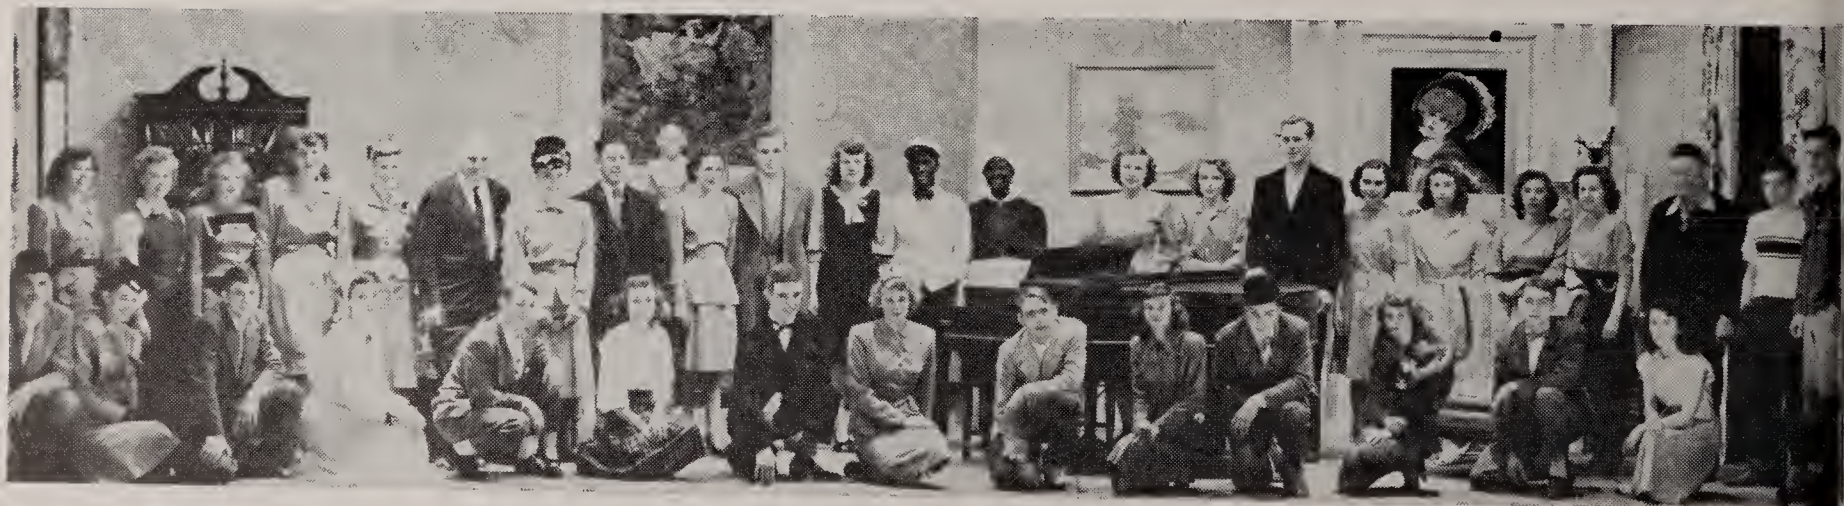

Much of the interest is centered upon Terry Randall, who admires a young playwright, Keith Burgess, and helps him write a play. He secures a producer who refuses to hire Terry to play the leading role. Keith later succumbs to the demands of Hollywood. Terry is also offered work in moving pictures by a producer, David Kingsley, but he gives her his personal advice to remain true to the legitimate stage. Later Mr. Kingsley brings another producer, Adolph Gretzl, to the Footlights Club to have Terry try out for a part. He declares her incompetent, but David buys the play from him and secures Terry for both his leading lady and his bride.

The cast included: Olga Brant, the pianist, Betty Feagler; Mattie the colored maid, Bonnie Kessler; Frank, another colored servant, Bob Williamson; Terry Randall, Peggy Fletter; Pat Devine, Lois Leman; Mary Harper, Big Mary, Patsy Cremean; Mary McCune, Little Mary, Bette Griffin; Bernice Niemeyer, Carolyn Bender; Madeline Vauclain, Barbara Sanders; Judith Canfield, Lorna Waite; Ann Braddock, Doris Kyle; Kaye Hamilton, Greta Bodie; Linda Shaw, Angela Foutz; Jean Maitland, Margaret Owens; Bobby Melrose, Donna Stevens; Louise Mitchell, Rose Marie Ashley; Susan Paige, Barbara Bratton, Kendall Adams, Shirlee Allen; Tony Gillette, Jean Boyer; Ellen Fenwick, Betty Miller; Mrs. Orcutt, Joan Kundard; Sam Hastings, Chuck Sheets; Jimmy Devereaux, Don Sell; Fred Powell, Burton Whitlock; Lou Milhouser, Dick Romero; David Kingsley, Bill Lemley; Keith Burgess, Andrew Emerson; Mrs. Shaw, Patty Harman; Dr. Randall, Leland Ewers; Larry Wescott, the reporter, Mac Arnold; Billy, the photographer, Bob Walter; Adolph Gretzl, a producer, Leonard Mitzman.

The stage set was beautifully constructed with a central archway. The lighting effects added much to the performance. The costumes were very colorful.

Much credit for the success of the play should also go to the stage crew and Vern Easterday and to the students who worked on committees.

The complete production was under the skillful direction of Charles Edwin Shank.

"a date with judy"

"A Date With Judy," a three-act comedy, was presented by the junior class on February 5 and 6, to very appreciative audiences.

The plot centered around Judy Foster's humorous efforts to become queen of the "Community Relief Fund Ball" by raising the most money in the campaign sponsored by this organization. The resulting complications involved the entire family in a series of laughable events which held the attention of the audience throughout the performance.

The cast included Judy Foster, a teen-age miss, Sheila Harman; Melvin Foster, her father, Dick Fisher; Dora Foster, her mother, Ileen Nelson; Randolph Foster, her younger brother, John Eldridge; Hannah, the maid, Molly Hosack; Barbara Winsocket, Judy's friend, Elinor Owens; Oogie Pringle, the man in Judy's life, George Close; Mitzie Hoffman, another of Judy's friends, Mary Alice Myers; Mr. Martindale, a theatrical producer, Harold Dowell; Mrs. Hotchkiss, the laundry woman, Mary Jane Henderson; Eloise Hotchkiss, her daughter who elocutes, Lois Spangle; Mrs. Shultzhammer, of the P.T.A., Shirley Brokaw; Rexford Meredith O'Connor, a new boy in town, Phil Hull; Susie, Rex's kid sister, Elinor Loomis; Radio Announcer, Tom Jack; and the messenger, Dean Sutton.

The production staff was as follows: Student director, Margaret Van Wagner; assistant, Claire Smith; business manager, Don Chaddick; stage manager, Loren Heckler; stage crew, Tom Jack, Dean Sutton, Jim Willis, Carl Raney; property manager, George Close; assistant, Bill Crain; program committee, Don Chaddick, John Elliott, Keith Newnam. The ushers were Donna Phnney, Jo Ann Thrasher, Donna Yates, Elsie Castner, Donna Shaffer, and Mary Lois Baker.

The music during intermissions and before and after the play was provided by the High School Band, directed by Mrs. Kindig. Two numbers were sung by the sophomore octet, Lou Phillips, Jeanne Anne Webb, Phyllis Ashley, Marysue Kring, Phyllis Ryan, Mary Ellen Redding, Martha Renner, and Beverly Robbins, with Miss Lippincott at the piano.

The play was under the direction of Mrs. Jane Cappellino.

Front row: Suzanna Lemley, Lois Sams, Marilyn Kling, Marilyn Harman, Sondra Randolph, Dorothy Magley, Patsy Cremean, Beverly Robbins, Katie Williamson.

The Girls' Athletic Association is active again after being non-existent for five years. It is under the leadership of its president, Marilyn Kling. She is assisted by vice president, Bonnie Kessler. The girls that keep the records are Jean Boyer, the recording secretary, and Denie Cotner, the corresponding secretary. Pat Harman is the banker. Miss Rees, the physical education teacher, is the sponsor and executive head of the organization.

You have all heard the old adage, "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy." The same thing holds true for Jill. The Girls' Athletic Association provides such games as basketball, baseball, volley ball, and many other sports.

Every Friday night from 4 till 5 o'clock you can hear strange noises (squeals, shrieks, ohs, and yells) in the gym. Yes, if you would investigate, you would find the girls in the midst of an exciting game. They also have tobogganing parties, skating parties, and other outside entertainment. The girls have a business meeting once a month.

The purpose of the organization is to stimulate the girls' interests in various sports, to promote good sportsmanship and cooperation, and to develop character and ability.

Membership is open to all high school girls. The organization must abide by laws of the National Girls' Athletic Association concerning the point system, awards, and the constitution, but the members of the local organizations choose their own sports and the amount of dues to be paid.

MIXED CHORUS

The mixed chorus has a membership of fifty this year. It is under the direction of Mary Catherine Lippincott and the accompanists were Betty Feagler, Elinor Owens, and Don Chaddick.

This group participated in the Spring Concert.

The officers are: Joan Kundard, president; Elinor Owens, vice president and librarian; and Lois Leman, secretary. These officers also served for the other vocal music groups.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

The Girls' Glee Club this year has eighty-four members.

They presented a program, along with the band, in the auditorium on November 15 with the theme, "A Pretty Girl Is Like a Melody." All of the small vocal ensembles participated.

The glee club took part in the Spring Concert, given in the auditorium on May 2.

The group is under the direction of Mary Catherine Lippincott and the accompanist is Betty L. Feagler.

A CAPPELLA CHORUS

The a cappella chorus is a new organization this year. Thirty-six girls are enrolled.

They sang at the superintendents' meeting at Potawatomi Inn on November 7.

The chorus presented a very impressive Christmas cantata, "The Wondrous Story" by Bellaire and Kountz.

The a cappella chorus sang numbers in the Spring Concert.

Mary Catherine Lippincott is the director.

"and the band played on"

The instrumental department, under the direction of Mrs. Barbara Kindig, was very busy this year.

They played at the first four basketball games and numerous other school activities. They marched on Decoration Day. They also marched for the Governor of Indiana and other celebrities at the grand opening of the Weatherhead Factory in Angola.

The band presented a public concert on January 29 and appeared in a concert with the vocal department on May 2.

The trumpet trio, Ben Weldon, Bob Williamson, and Clifton Nilson, have appeared in a number of programs throughout the year. Last year they received first ranking honors in the State Music Contest. A trio made up of Ben Weldon, Bob Williamson and Leonard Ott won first place this year.

The clarinet trio is another prominent music group. The members are Dick Romero, Don Chaddick, and Elinor Loomis.

Other music groups that appeared in the concert are the brass quartet, Owen Amstutz, Diana Beatty, Arlene McClellan, and Tom Reek; the string trio, Sue Weiss, Garna Lee Golden, and Sylvia Jackson; the woodwind quintet, Valrie Erickson, Billy London, Susan Jo Wood, Phyllis Bishop, and Larry Kunkel; and the brass sextet, Leonard Ott, Ben Weldon, Arlene McClellan, David Handy, Dick Meek, and Charles Humphries.

The school bought two new instruments, a brass horn and a tenor saxophone, for the band this year.

Three soloists, Larry Kunkel, bassoon; Valrie Erickson, flute; and Don Chaddick, piano, placed in the first division of the state music contest held on March 29.

The Band Mothers' Club had a bake sale in the fall. They bought sweaters for the seniors that were in the band and gave pins to the pupils who were in the band but not in high school.

on the lighter side

Last night I held a little hand,
So dainty and so sweet;
I thought my heart would surely break,
So wildly did it beat.
No other hand in all this world
Can greater solace bring,
Than that sweet hand I held last night,
Four aces and a king!

Burton: What's the hurry?

Jackson: I bought a text book and I'm trying to get to class before the next edition.

Frosh: What's Professor Owens talking about?

Junior: Integration, you half-wit.

Frosh: Is he for it or against it?

"Now, Jim Willis," said the teacher, "listen to me carefully. If I had five eggs in this basket and laid three on the table, how many eggs would I have?"

"Eight," was the cheerful reply.

Owens: Officer, this man is annoying me.

Officer: But this man isn't even looking at you.

Owens: I know it. That's what annoys me.

Mr. Rose: Lou Ann, can you define nonsense?

Lou: Yes, teacher. An elephant hanging over a cliff with his tail tied to a daisy.

Pop: Pneumatic is misspelled in this letter. Why did you type it "neumatic"?

John E.: The "k" on my typewriter isn't working.

One skunk to another: "You do too."

On the back of Dale Lonsbury's truck is the following inscription: "Caution—this truck stops for all railroads, intersections, stop lights, brunettes, redheads, and will back up one half mile for a blonde."

Groom: Now perhaps I'll be permitted to point out a few of your defects.

Bride: It won't be necessary, darling. I know them. They kept me from getting a better man than you.

The ship was sinking, and the captain called all hands aft.

"Who among you can pray?" he asked.

"I can," replied an ensign.

"Then pray, shipmate," ordered the captain.

"The rest of you put on your life jackets. We're one short."

If a boy tries to kiss a girl and gets away with it, he's a hero. If he tries and doesn't get away with it, he's a brute. If he doesn't try but would get away with it if he tried, he's a coward. And if he doesn't try to kiss her and wouldn't get away with it if he did—he's a wise man.

—Herb Sanders

Mr. Handy: There's a young man in this class making a fool of himself. When he's through, I'll start.

He tilted
Her lovely head
Toward him
And bent over
Her tremulous mouth.
He gazed
Intently at her
For a moment,
Then said softly,
"I'm going to have
To pull that tooth!"

Sam: What is an optimist?

Jim: An optimist is a cross-eyed man who is thankful he isn't bow legged.

Mr. Elliott: Did you have any luck when you were duck hunting?

Druck: Yeah, I shot at one and missed him. Then I shot at another and hit him in the same place.

"It is only too true that a girl's ideal is shattered," said a writer.

More often he is just broke.

our superintendent retires

As this 1947 Key Annual draws to a close, Superintendent John L. Estrich announces the close of his years of service in the Angola public schools. During his administration many important developments in the school property and the entire school system have occurred.

Mr. Estrich came to Angola as a teacher of mathematics and science in 1920 and became high school principal in 1921. He succeeded Heyman Allman as superintendent in 1924.

Outstanding in the physical development of the Angola Schools during his administration was the construction of the present splendid school building. It was erected in 1932. With the increased facilities came the transfer of all pupils from Pleasant Township and an increased teaching staff.

During Mr. Estrich's administration the Hi-Y club was established in 1922 and the Girl Reserves, now the Y-Teens, in 1926. These clubs have accomplished much in developing finer qualities among the students who have belonged to them.

The high school activities accounting system, a combined school finance plan for societies and activities engaged in by the students was inaugurated by Mr. Estrich. A system similar to that later was adopted by the state throughout the schools generally.

Improvements in the playgrounds and the acquisition of additional grounds east of the building, now being conditioned for the use of the pupils, have been outstanding accomplishments.

Also of great significance, 1200 young people have been graduated from the schools during Mr. Estrich's administration.

The school and the community owe much to the untiring efforts of our faithful superintendent.

The students will also greatly miss the services of Mr. Handy, history and biology instructor; Mr. Rose, mathematics; and Miss Lippincott, vocal music.
